SKETCHBOOK

WESTINGHOUSE HIGH SCHOOL VOLUME LX 1975

Westinghouse forever, Loyal and True,
Nothing can ever take the place of you.
Westinghouse forever, We're true to you,
We love our colors of gold and blue.

The Sketchbook Staff

To an excellent Senior Class. You have graduated from the academics provided for you at Westinghouse. Along with this great achievement let us graduate into real outstanding men and women. Let us use all our power to lift up the standards, morally and mentally, of Westinghouse High School and the community.

Tenolia J. Guice, Sketchbook Sponsor

Parent Club

Mr. Theodore Vasser, Principal

The principal of Westinghouse High School has provided new frontiers since he took the helm.

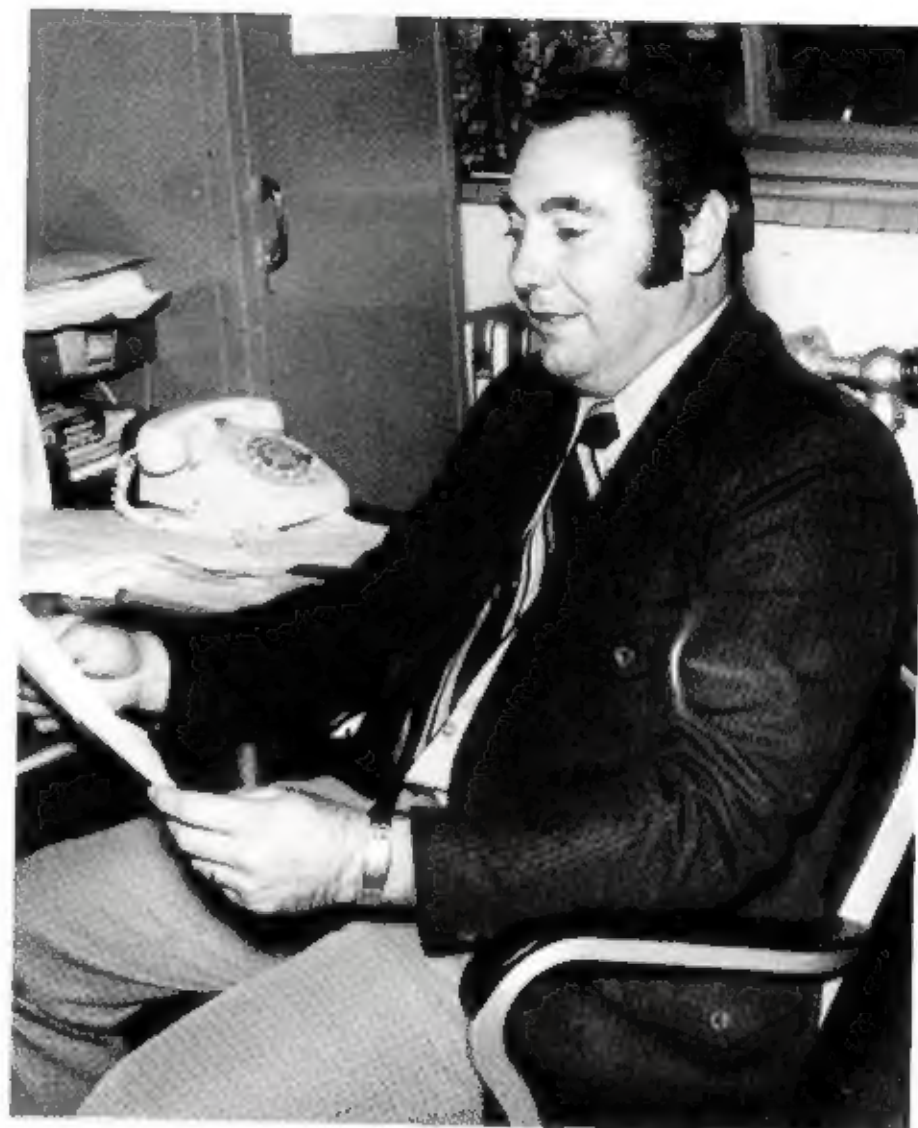

He has been influential in curriculum development. He has acquired new programs and instructional materials. He has designed the schedule to fit the needs of 2,000 students. To use a parenthetical expression; the course to the harbor was, as he expected a long and difficult one, but with an unlimited concern for the school, self-confidence and determination, the class of '75 has arrived at its destination.

Mr. Vasser has a very keen interest in sports, especially football; as he reflects to high school and college days, as well as, participating with semi-professional teams.

Mr. Vasser wishes to congratulate the Senior Class of 1975 because it possesses leadership and has been quite successful.

ODES TO DR. MARTIN

MARTIN

Martin was a King among men;
He tried to free this world from sin.
I heard he knew just what it took
To put Black History in the book.
It was not uncommon to hear him say,
"I have a dream; we shall overcome someday."
The people did love him and so did I.
And on the day of his death, we all did cry.
On that day, too, the world took pause
To mourn a King — a King with a cause!

A GREAT MAN

A Man that knew violence wasn't the way —
But with knowledge and learning —
We will reach our goal someday.
The dream he dreamed can come true; with help from me and you.
The marches, the speeches, the boycotts and all
Just so we as people would not fall.
So help us, teach us, show us the way —
One of us might become a Dr. King — someday.

THIS WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR FOR U-S

"The Way We Were"

Your books are put away, the marks are closed
The child is gone, the man is here instead
The friendships end, childish joys are dead
The obscure future is only "supposed"
And gone the joyous teen-ager pranks and clothes
From the austere facts, dreams of youth have fled
Through paths of education you've been led!
Now you tremble on the path you chose
These hallowed grounds you fear you trespass on
Are opening their gates to welcome you
The father lacks the freshness of the son
The failure of one swells the gain for two
So take with you the cherished years gone by
As you forever stretch toward yonder sky.

MEMORIES of 1975

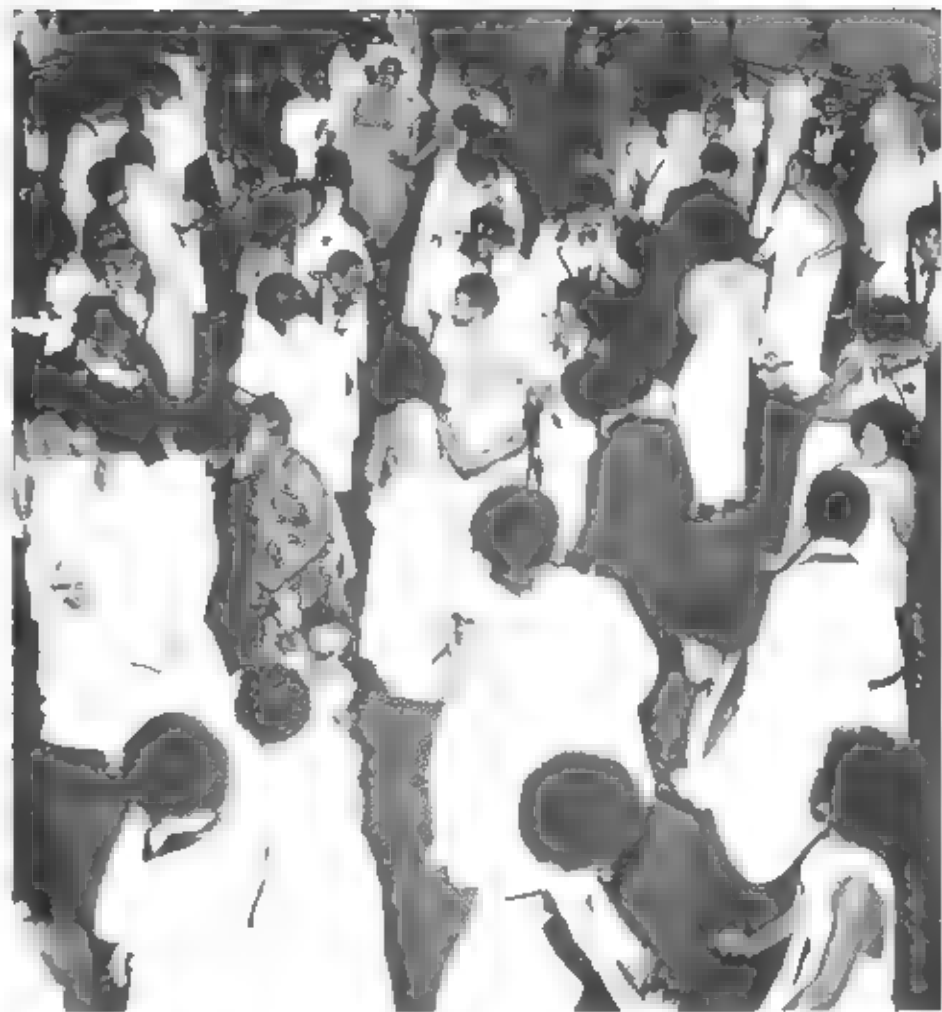

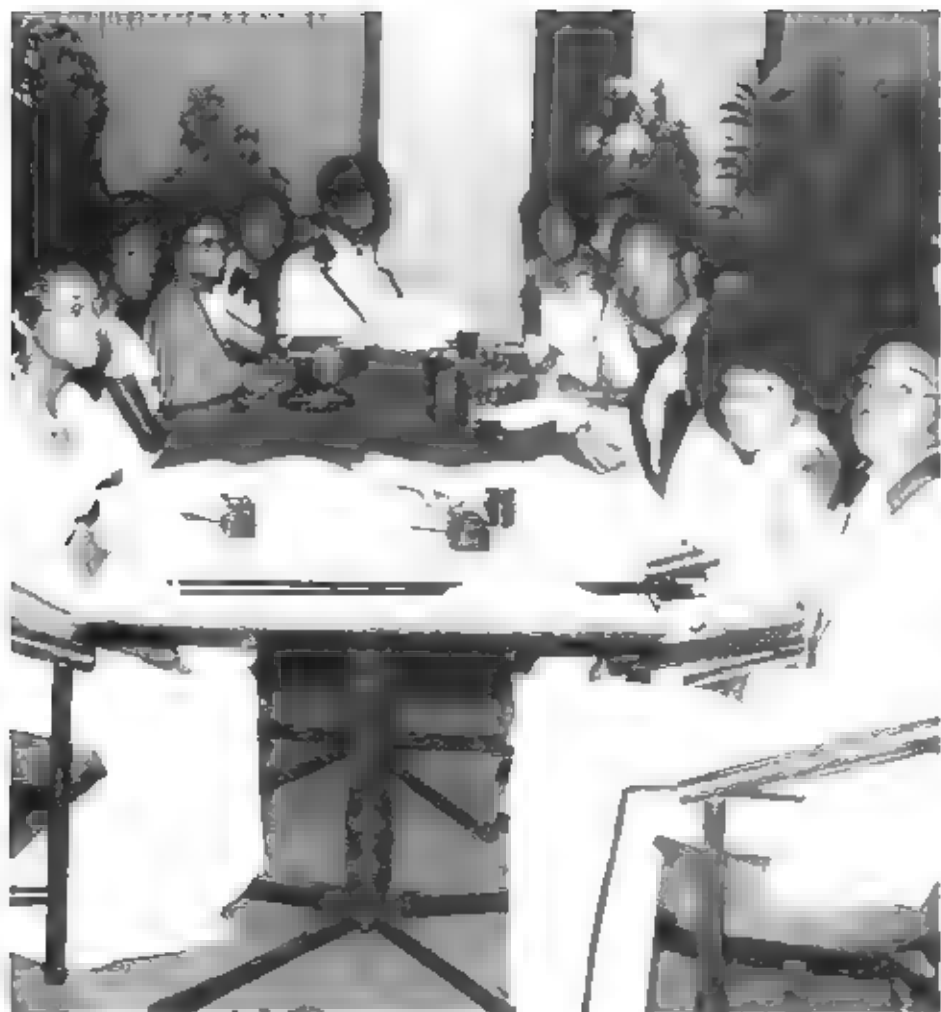

IT'S A TRIP — to a variety of fun; another glimpse at our Queen; Conley's is like your wildest dream; melodies blending with a colorful waterfall; dance to the "Bump," chat with the "Roses," smile at the call; dine with the one you love most of all.

POETRY CORNER

Spring is almost here you see,
Things are shaping up slow as it seems.
Old winter is tucking away it seams.
Soon the sun shine will have its beam of different colors and tree of green.
The only thing I forgot to say,
I hope everything remains this way.
(Cheryl Lee)

Graduation Scene

Student of the Month!

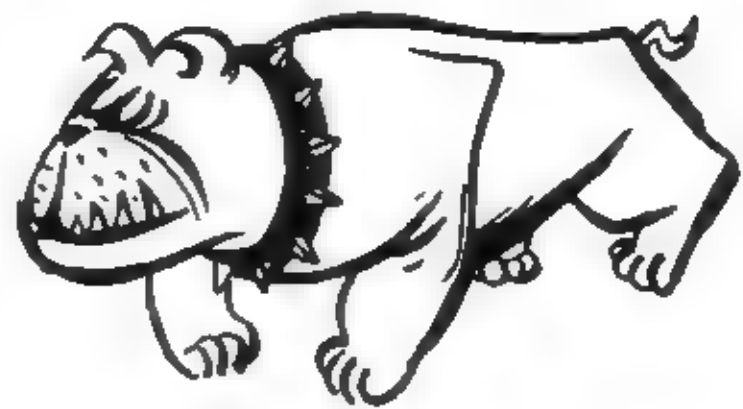

Roberta Gudger's questions were about Westinghouse and the senior class.

QUESTION: What do you think are the problem areas in Westinghouse?

ANSWER: They are the students and the proper lack of the learning resources.

QUESTION: How do you feel about the Senior Class?

ANSWER: There are doers and don'ters in the class but we are striving to achieve our goals as we have done through the years.

THANKS SENIORS!

WHAT IN THE HILL IS OZANAM?

It's a free community center.

It's where you take free classes in reading, music, Afro-American history and literature.

It's where you go to have fun: sports, music, films.

There's even someone to take care of the kids.

It's Ozanam. Bishop Wright started it.

The Community operates it.

It's for you.

That's what in the Hill Ozanam is.

Call or drop in.

Graduation Fun Work!

Commencement at Soldiers and Sailor's Hall

Elaine Walker

Thus the seasons come and go. Another year has passed, never to return, but time and again our memories will recall this year. Many small incidents that will happen later in life will cause us to remember. We who have produced this book sincerely hope that in some small way it might also serve as a reminder — serve to stimulate your memory, to recapture lost moments, and cause you to say, "Yes, I remember."

Marian Elaine Walker
Lay-Out Editor

We have your cheese Tony.

Emily Butler

Yes, I would, I'd like this again and again.

Graduation has arrived. Many of us are glad; many more are sad. We have done our best here at Westinghouse. Now we must leave our Alma Mater and the many acquaintances we have come to know and love. We shall never forget our high school years . . . classes . . . teachers . . . friends . . . football and basketball games . . . dances . . . and most of all graduation.

As we enter the vast world . . . young men and women of the future . . . we will carry these memories with us and walk with God.
